NYC Longboard Vibes Hosts Their Fourteenth Open Session Longboard Group Experiences Rapid Growth in New York City

New York City, NY: Tomorrow, NYC Longboard Vibes, a group hosting longboarding and skate sessions, hosts their fourteenth consecutive week of sessions. Brandon DesJarlais, or @desgnarlais, an influencer with over 100k followers on instagram and years of longboarding experience, will be present for tomorrow's event.

With the recent news of his decision to attend this session, our host @nyc.longboard.vibes shows their appreciation for Brandon, "This amazing person has been a tremendous help in spreading these longboard vibes and growing this community." This marks an important milestone in the history of the longboarding scene in New York City as this could be the first of many visits from influential figures.

To celebrate this event, NYC Longboard Vibes has announced that:

- Giveaways will be held at the event tomorrow. Any attendee that shows up will have a chance to enter.
- This event will be held at a new location. Riverside Park by 108th St. and Riverside Drive.
